MISS BUTTERFIELD WED

REV. BEDE A. JOHNSON UNITES GLENDALE GIRL WITH CALEXICO MAN

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Henry, 118 West Park avenue, on Thursday, May 20th, shortly before noon, there occurred a pretty wedding of much interest to Glendale people, when Rev. Bede A. Johnson of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Glendale united the lives of Miss Mary Louise Butterfield of Glendale and Mr. Thomas Almarin Sinclair of Calexico, Imperial valley, in the holy bonds of marriage.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were present on this momentous occasion. The rooms were decorated beautifully, white roses and greenery forming a pretty setting for the ceremony, while in the other rooms pink carnations, roses and ferns were used. Miss Marian Henry played the wedding march as the bride and groom took their places unattended and preceded by the officiating minister. Both bride and groom were attired in traveling suits and the bride carried a bouquet of brides roses. Rev. Johnson used the impressive ring ceremony.

Shortly after the marriage vows had been spoken, Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair left for one of the near-by beaches, where they will spend a few days before going to San Diego, from which city they sail on the 26th for New York City via the Panama canal. They will visit many points of interest in eastern states and will visit Mr. Sinclair's parents and other relatives in Illinois before returning to California via San Francisco, where they will visit the exposition. They expect to return in September and will be at home at Calexico, where the groom is a prosperous rancher.

SHORT SESSION OF TRUSTEES

The city school board met Thursday evening in regular session in their office in the Third street school with Trustee L. E. Brockman, chairman pro tem, and John Todd, clerk, present. Minutes of the previous meeting read and with some slight alteration were approved.

Mr. J. E. McKeever of the Hartfield Hardware company was present and addressed the board on the merits of the Skinner lawn sprinkling system and cited the trustees to several places in Glendale where they are in use with marked satisfaction.

On account of Trustee Eckles being absent, the teachers' salary schedule was postponed until a later meeting.

Trustee Todd was instructed to have electric lights placed in the sloyd and domestic science rooms.

In order to attend the Patrons' Day exercises being held at the Pacific avenue school, all other business was postponed except allowing the following bills, after which the board adjourned to meet next Thursday evening at 7:30:

Kranz Realty Co., $16.
James W. Pearson, $35.63.
Anna L. Sternberg, $28.
Oscar Faacks, $1.25.
Howard W. Walker, $20.
Cunningham-Curtis-Welsh, $2.50.
So. Cal. Gas Co., $2.24.
O. Spencer, $10.75.
Shaver Grocery, Co., $8.10.

STRAIGHT AND NARROW WAY

To gain advertising in the Glendale Evening News, all business concerns must come in by the straight and narrow road. Of late only a few who can see no good in advertising have been seeking a round-about way to get free publicity in the Evening News. St. Peter will close the publicity gate in the face of all such individuals.

REMEMBER STAY-AT-HOMES

The News is in receipt of a postal from San Francisco containing greetings from Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. H. W. Yarick, Mrs. N. C. Kelley, Mrs. H. D. Lockwood and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, who are in that city attending the meetings of the California Congress of Mothers and enjoying the exposition. We much appreciate the thoughtfulness of these busy women.

DINNER PARTY

Miss Harriett Wells of 1504 West Broadway was hostess Wednesday evening at a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Bennett, who recently arrived from Boston to make their home in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for eight at the perfectly appointed table, where a full course dinner was served.

Mrs. Bennett and the hostess were childhood friends in Colorado and have greatly enjoyed renewing the acquaintanceship.

NAMING SCHOOLS

GLENDALE PASTOR MAKES EXCELLENT SUGGESTIONS TO SCHOOL TRUSTEES

What has become of our Intermediate school? The name Intermediate, which is about the only thing visitors have to go by, has for some reason been set aside in rebuilding the edifice. "Third Street" may be the original name, but when like Fourth and Sixth streets, the street name may be changed, the result will be unsatisfactory to say the least. As a city we ought to be anxious to let the world know that we are big enough to have an intermediate department in our splendid system of education.

I should like to make a motion that the word Intermediate be put back where it belongs. If some one will second the motion I believe it will carry. In the meantime, let the board give a reason for the change. And why not have some name for the Broadway school building?

While we are talking about names, why not give our grammar schools attractive names? What's the matter with "Washington" school, "Lincoln" or "McKinley" school? This would seem to be more in keeping with the things for which our schools stand—to name the buildings after some noble character who has wrought for the good of our state or nation. So many really appropriate and beautiful names suggest themselves that most any change would be an improvement over the present ones. REV. W. E. EDMONDS.

GARAGE CHANGES HANDS

What was formerly known as the Overland Auto and Truck company will be run henceforth under the name of the Overland Auto and Sales company, the business having recently changed hands. This well-known garage and general auto business has been purchased by Mr. R. J. Kennedy of Boise City, Idaho. Mr. Kennedy has had a profitable experience in the garage business, having been in connection for five years with one of the principal auto businesses in Chicago.

The deal was put through Wednesday of this week when the interests of Mr. Salo Desky, Julius Kranz and W. R. Middleworth were taken over by Mr. Kennedy. The latter, who is a young man of great business ability and untiring energy, will extend to the motoring public and to everybody all courtesy and civility, with strict attention to their interests, as well as to those of the firm. He will do everything in his power to assure a square deal to all.

Mr. Kennedy resides with his mother at 1451 Sycamore avenue, Glendale. The garage under the new management will do a general business, including repairing and vulcanizing.

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Ruth Browne of 1620 Stocker street was the guest of Miss Marguerite Childs of Toberman avenue, Los Angeles, who entertained a few friends in honor of her birthday last Wednesday evening, the other guests who enjoyed the happy occasion being from Los Angeles.

Mr. J. W. Cousins of 1501 Lorraine street is expected home today via the coast route from the North, where he has been in the interests of the firm of Cooper, Coates and Casey. Mr. Cousins will remain with his family two weeks at least.

Mrs. Oliver E. Wright of 1649 Ruth street is entertaining as her guest for the week-end Mr. Wright's sister, Mrs. E. E. Mansfield of 7321 Roseberry avenue, Florence.

Mrs. Frank Townsend of 643 North Louise street entertained as her house guest very recently her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schofield and daughter Thais; also Mrs. Schofield's mother, Mrs. Stewart of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Cunningham of Schenectady, N. Y., who are spending some time in California, returned on Thursday from Pasadena, where they spent ten days and are now house guests of their son and family, Mr. C. H. Cunningham of 1013 Fairview avenue.

Mrs. Walter Parsonage of 829 Lincoln place entertained as her house guest for the mid-week Mrs. John Hulsewe of Eagle Rock.

Mr. C. H. Cunningham of 1013 Fairview avenue made a business trip to Whittier on Thursday.

M. E. QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

The third quarterly conference of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the church this evening at 7:45 sharp. Let the members be prompt, as some desire to get away to attend the Intermediate school entertainment.

L. A. THIMBLE CLUB

MRS. DOW HOSTESS TO ORGANIZATION OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH WOMEN

One of the most charming entertainments of the week was that at which Mrs. Lillian E. Dow, 237 Orange street, received the well-known Thimble club of the First Congregational church, Los Angeles, of which Dr. W. Horace Day is pastor. Mrs. Dow was assisted by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. C. F. Parker of Glendale and also by Mrs. B. F. Sanborn, Mrs. C. E. Frear and Mrs. E. C. Foster of Los Angeles.

Forty-eight ladies were present. Luncheon was served at noon. In the course of the afternoon Mrs. Warren F. Day gave an extremely interesting account of her recent trip to Egypt.

Mrs. Day's description of the Nile scenery, the Pyramids, the Sphinx and the cataracts, together with her vivid impressions of the progress made in such cities as Alexandria and Cairo, made a deep impression on her audience.

Mrs. W. Horace Day was equally graphic and entertaining in her story of her journey through portions of India. Some of the most striking features of the great British empire were brought home to the ladies, who were particularly interested in the story of mission progress there.

Miss Jones from Pennsylvania gave a series of readings which were highly enjoyed. A piano solo by Dorothy Dow gave much pleasure. The decorations for the house were pink, with cochet roses.

Among the invited guests were Mrs. Menzo Williams of Casa Verdugo and Mrs. Willisford of Glendale; also Miss Jones of Pennsylvania, who is a guest of Mrs. Williams at the present time.

GOOD TEMPLARS' PICNIC

One of the jolliest crowds that ever made Verdugo park resound with merriment were the Good Templars of Glendale and their friends who last Saturday in a large hay wagon and several autos took the road to that beautiful spot. The young people were in the height of good spirits. They spent all day in the park with games and sports of various kinds. In the evening the party enjoyed a "wiener roast." When the shades of night began to warn of the need for returning, the merry crowd tumbled into their cart and autos and returned to town in good spirits, having had one of the most enjoyable outings of the season.

PREPARE FOR BIG FEED

On Friday and Saturday nights, May 28 and 29, the Masonic temple is the place to go to get a good home-cooked cafeteria dinner at very reasonable prices. These dinners will be in charge of the following ladies: Friday—Mrs. Hester, chairman of dinner, and Mrs. V. Price Brown, chairman of serving, assisted by Mesdames Elliott, George Mitchell, Albert Pearce, Begg, White, Everets, Burgess, S. A. Chase, Cassell, A. W. Beach, Clements, Martin. The flower and table committee is Mrs. Faries, chairman; Mesdames Alex Mitchell, H. D. Smith, C. Nash, Fred Thompson, Harrison, Franklin, Read, Adams and Patterson.

On Saturday Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. E. S. McKee will be in charge, assisted by Mesdames Hunchberger, McElroy, Parke, Stamps, Woodberry, Ellis, Packer, Peterson, Anderson, Archer, Chas. Evans, Martin. The flower and table committee for Saturday consists of Mesdames Luther Brown, Eudemiller, Masters, Lilly, Rowe, Preston, Kimmell, Yard, Banker and Herrod.

HIGH SCHOOL FUNCTION

COOKING SCHOOL GIRLS ENTERTAIN TRUSTEES IN FIRST-CLASS STYLE

What served the double purpose of dedicating the new bungalow apartment in connection with the Union high school cooking school and also to entertain the trustees of the school proper, took the shape of a banquet prepared by the young ladies who are studying cooking and housekeeping under the supervision of Miss Vera Holloway and Miss Ellen Hanson. The banquet was served Thursday night in the school bungalow apartment, the rooms of which were handsomely decorated in a color scheme of yellow.

The young ladies of the cooking school spent a great deal of time and bestowed much pains on the entertainment. The guests present were: Principal and Mrs. Moyse, Principal and Mrs. Howe, the school trustees and their wives were present also as follows: Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young, Eagle Rock; Dr. A. L. Bryant and Mrs. Birkett.

It afforded great pleasure to the young ladies of the cooking class to throw open their beautifully decorated rooms to their guests, who were highly pleased with the reception tendered them. The cooking class consists of fourteen members, all of whom were present at the entertainment and enjoyed their own cooking and took much pleasure in the appearance of their bungalow, which was decorated in great good taste with W. F. Richardson yellow roses and asparagus ferns. Both rooms glowed pleasantly under the mellow light of candles shaded in the universal yellow color scheme of the evening. The new silver and beautiful new dinner service belonging to the school gleamed and glistened under the golden rays. The young ladies, resplendent in tasteful dress, lent the music of their merriment to the proceedings.

Appropriate speeches were made in the course of the evening. The guests were seated at two tables, on which were centerpieces consisting of yellow roses in handsome baskets, trimmed with malines. Everything on the table was the work of the fair hands of the school girls. The candle shades were made in rose form and the little individual nut baskets that stood by the plate of each guest were made in the form of roses also and reflected great credit on the good taste and industry of the class. The placecards also partook of the same color scheme. The designs on the baskets were yellow roses and the color scheme showed up even in the menu.

It would be difficult to have served a more dainty yet satisfying dinner than that which the young ladies had prepared with their own charming hands. The courses were as follows:

First course—Bouillon and croutons.

Second course—Fish cutlets with tartar sauce in lemon cups; sliced cucumbers, mayonnaise; bread and butter sandwiches.

Third course—Roast lamb and potato balls, with parsley sauce; creamed peas in timball cases; olives, sweet pickled pears, mint ice with sprigs of mint on the top of each ice.

Fourth course—Orange salad in orange baskets; the borders of the baskets were trimmed with yellow Cecil Brunner roses—rather a rare variety; cheese wafers.

Fifth course—Apricot ice cream, angel cake with icing to match the general color scheme; yellow mints and rolls and bread made by the girls; black coffee.

It is well to note that housekeeping in its every form will now be taught in the high school. The rooms of the new bungalow apartments are now open for practical housekeeping.

After dinner the guests and trustees inspected the new rooms and looked over with much interest the work that is being done.

SURPRISE PARTY

Members of the La Crescenta Sunday school sprung a delightful surprise on Mr. and Mrs. William Vining last Tuesday evening at their home in Verdugo canyon. Mrs. Vining, prior to her recent marriage, was Mrs. Amanda Fenton and a member of the Sunday school, and the social gathering was in the nature of a surprise and reunion. The members presented a beautiful bouquet of roses and singing and an enjoyable social evening was spent together. Among those present were Rev. Theo. Hopping, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wetherbee, Mrs. Reinchilds, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Haynes.

Corn has been selling cheaper than a year ago; why not use more corn and less wheat?

CONGRESS OF MOTHERS

GLENDALE WOMAN SPEAKS AT GREAT NATIONAL AND STATE CONVENTION

The mothers of the nation and of the state of California were guests of San Francisco and of the exposition during the past week, when the convention of the California Congress of Mothers and the national conference of mothers and Parent-Teacher associations met in joint sessions at the San Francisco exposition, Civic Center auditorium and at the exposition grounds.

Delegates who have gained fame for their work on child welfare problems and who have contributed much to the moral and physical advancement of the nation, were in attendance.

No fewer than 1500 mothers of California, together with the leading spirits of various social and civic organizations from all over the country took active part in the convention work.

Among the women who voiced their opinions at the great gathering were: Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, Mrs. H. N. Rowell, president of the California Congress of Mothers; Mrs. Frederic Schoff of Washington, president of the National Association of Mothers; Mrs. J. D. Taylor of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. H. Marston of Berkeley, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell of 343 North Maryland avenue, Glendale.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A pleasant surprise party was given Thursday evening at the home of Miss Elsie Thede, 221 South Isabel street, in honor of Mr. Henry Freed. A very pleasant evening was spent with games and music. The large, handsome birthday cake was furnished by the Glendale bakery.

Those present were Eusebia Farrand, Margaret McOmber, Gail Hamilton, Esther Andrae, Ruth Matthieson, Catherine Favella, Martha Tarr, Blanche Thede, Elsie Thede, Percy Farrand, Earl La Rowe, Bill Marple, George Matthieson, Harry Francy, Mark Francy, Frank Butterfield, Henry Freed and Fred Tarr.

TROPICO

Post Commander George W. Sanford of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., and Mrs. Sanford, Major J. J. Weiler, Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler, president of N. P. Banks W. R. C., and Mrs. Hettie Williams, have returned from a visit of two weeks in San Jose and San Francisco. While in San Jose they attended the department convention of the Post and Corps, which met there last week. These visitors then visited San Francisco and spent several days at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Mrs. Imler was honored by being appointed on the executive committee of the department of California and Nevada.

Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin, who is noted for her clever and unique entertainments, delighted a number of friends with a cafeteria dinner and a carpetrag sewing paryt at her home on Acacia avenue Thursday. Mrs. Griffin's guests were Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. Herman Goodrich, Mrs. H. E. Chandler, Mrs. James R. Maxwell, Mrs. George Friedgen, Mrs. Wm. Hartwig, Mrs. R. N. Sanders, Mrs. E. K. Tresslar and Mrs. Wm. La Fontaine. Even though this charming hostess and her many guests enjoyed a most delightful day, socially, yet they accomplished a wonderful amount of work, as twenty-seven pounds of carpet rags were sewed.

The program furnished by Mrs. Harry Bowman, chairman of the program committee of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, at the home of Mrs. Clyde R. Carmack on North Central avenue Thursday was very interesting, as Mr. Arthur W. Kinney, industrial commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, gave a very instructive talk on "Home Industry and Home Prosperity." Preceeding this program a very interesting business session, at which Mrs. Charles A. Barker presided, was held. Mrs. Carmack, who is a most gracious hostess, presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Mrs. D. O. Martin, Mrs. E. W. Richardson and Miss Cora Hickman.

Sir Francis and Mrs. Boothe of Gardena avenue entertained as their guest at luncheon Thursday Mrs. R. R. Tanner of Santa Monica. Following the delicious luncheon Mrs. Tanner, with her host and hostess, enjoyed a delightful auto trip throughout the valley.

Robert N. Taylor, who has been attending the department convention of the G. A. R. of the department of California and Nevada, which convened in San Jose last week, has returned home, having had a most delightful sojourn in the northern city.

POINTS ON POULTRY

GLENDALE-TROPICO POULTRY & PET STOCK ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES METHODS

Quite an interesting session was held Thursday night by the Glendale-Tropico Poultry and Pet Stock association. This organization meets monthly to discuss methods and compare notes and experiences. This interchange of views and comparison of practical work has resulted in much profit to the individual members of the society. The meeting, which was the regular monthly session, took place in the fire hall and was attended by a large number of the active local poultrymen.

Among those who spoke at the gathering was Mr. Vernon Carr, who has had quite a successful career as a utility poultryman. Mr. Carr is regarded as one of the leading utility men in Southern California. His opinions are eagerly sought and his experience is largely quoted by poultrymen throughout the state. This reputation has not been built up without long and careful study of the art of breeding and feeding poultry.

Mr. Carr has arrived at the present profitable methods which he employs only after many years of experience and by eliminating mistakes. Speaking of the results of this experience, Mr. Carr said that while he had achieved some success in breeding and feeding young chickens, it had taken him many years to find out the best methods. The care of young chicks, he said, was no sinecure. Constant vigilance was the price of success, and yet even vigilance of the most faithful order would avail nothing without accurate knowledge of the proper methods of handling chickens from the moment the eggs went into the incubator to the moment the chickens were able to run about and even then vigilance and constant care were needed to get the maximum profit from each hen.

"It took me several years," said Mr. Carr, "to find out the best methods for handling the baby chick up to a safe age. Overheating is the frequent cause of loss in the early stages. In my early experiments I lost a large proportion of chicks from overheating. The best method to obviate such loss is to begin with lowering the temperature, after about ten days, continuing the process until the lowest point is reached, where the chicks still appear comfortable. Treated in this manner the chicks, when permitted to run out in the open air, get no set-back."

Mr. Carr said that he depended largely on chick feed until the birds had reached an age at which they could be fed whole wheat. At the same time they had always on hand in the hoppers a mash of Mr. Carr's own mixing. Sprouted grain in the runs, he added, would keep the birds in excellent condition as far as green feed could do so. He also gave valuable information on many other points and many of the members will profit considerably by what he told them.

Mr. S. E. Berkey, one of the old-time breeders and formerly president of the poultry association, gave a very interesting talk on the relation of the fancy to the utility section of the industry. In particular he stated that there were too few of some varieties of the fancy birds put on the market at a price within reach of the ordinary breeder. This dearth of reasonably-priced birds, he said, prevented many excellent varieties from becoming popular. He added that it was best to breed the fancy and utility varieties together, as there was usually much less success experienced in rearing the fancy birds when the two classes were bred separately.

The association does not devote its whole attention to chicks. It also encourages the breeding of rabbits and hares. The next meeting of the association will be devoted wholely to consideration of the breeding and care of rabbits.

"OUR HOPE"

Rev. W. E. Blackstone (whose book entitled "Jesus Is Coming" has been read and studied throughout Christendom and been translated into many different languages) will speak at the Glendale Presbyterian church, corner Broadway and Cedar, next Sunday morning, May 23, at 11 o'clock. Mr. Blackstone is spending some months on this coast and the local congregation is fortunate in securing so noted an author and lecturer, who is also noted among the leading teachers and preachers concerning the pre-millennial coming of Christ. His subject will be "Our Hope." The sermon will be of a very practical nature, and all who may hear it may be assured of a veritable feast in spiritual things.

PROPER USE OF MONEY

Money is the modern "jinn." It can work all the wonders prefigured in the Arabian Nights—and a few more. It can be the greatest curse or the greatest blessing to mankind.

Money in its highest phase is a protection. It defends "patient merit" from the "whips and scorns" which is often has to take from "the unworthy." It gives the man of learning and genius his proper place. Without it he is the butt of every bumpkin who has a dollar in his pocket and all the little curs can bark at him.

Money is power. Rightly used it makes this world's path smooth. It creates a home and gives us peace within its walls. Therefore, it is one of the great beneficent powers of the world. It can create also a hell and dwelling place of demons on this earth and enthrone the evil man where he can do most harm; therefore, it is the most evil power on earth.

Few people know how to use money properly; either they hoard it up or they spend it recklessly. Either they deny themselves those rights and enjoyments they should have, or they squander the wealth that has come to them, without measure, and even without real enjoyment.

Some hamper their best efforts and kill their possibilities by fearing to use money after they have gained it. Like some famous misers, they fear to die poor. They even deny themselves necessities and deprive their families of proper sustenance. It is of such as these that Bailey wrote in his "Festus"—

"I would have them beat into a living wire
And melted inch by inch and ell by ell,
Where is the law of wrath."

Money is never condemned in Scripture as some seem to think. It is the "love of money" that the Bible declares to be "the root of all evil." There is much truth in the ancient saying, "One's best friend is a dollar in the pocket."

Money wisely used and properly invested can give almost unlimited power. Simon Guggenheim, head of the famous "smelter" family, arrived in New York from Germany when a young man with a single dollar in his pocket. He invested that dollar in shoe laces and other "notions" and peddled them in New York City. In a few months his dollar had grown sufficiently to enable him to rent a Sixth avenue store. In the course of his dealings there he took some mining stock in exchange for a bad debt. That mining stock —apparently worthless—was the beginning of the great Guggenheim fortune.

It is just as easy for any prudent citizen to acquire a fortune as it was for Isaac Guggenheim. It certainly should be easier for any right-minded citizen after having obtained that fortune to make a wiser use of it than we see some of our multi-millionaires doing.

Rightly used, money makes life's path smooth for ourselves and also for others. It cannot purchase heaven and we must leave it behind us when we die, but taking with us a sense that we have used it aright, we will find that it is possible even for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven.

DISEASE IN SUMMER RESORTS

Not long ago this paper called the attention of Glendale residents to the superior attractions of Glendale as a summer resort. One of the reasons given was that there is little disease here and that citizens staying at home are not subjected to the chance of infection that is so easily met with at seaside and other resorts. Now comes the California state board of health with the official statement that typhoid fever is very prevalent in those counties in which there are summer resorts and in those sections of the state where Californians are accustomed to spend vacation days.

Strange to say, people do not dread typhoid fever sufficiently. The knowledge that that zymotic affection had broken out in a community would scarcely ripple the surface of the public mind. It is difficult for medical authorities to handle such a disease as typhoid when the people have no fear of it. They cannot be persuaded to take the necessary precautions to prevent the spread of the disease. That is one of the great difficulties in dealing with typhoid. The outbreak of typhoid in a community is reproach to the sanitation and civilization of the community in which it was contracted. It is likely that ere long health authorities will be held responsible for this and other preventable infections, just as they are now held responsible for preventable accidents.

Typhoid infection comes in most cases from a water-borne source; occasionally from infected food or milk. Water-borne infection is virulent and 95 per cent of the cases occurring in California are from a water source. Proper underground water supply for domestic purposes and where surface water is used, proper filtration, are necessities of modern communities. Until those conditions are obtained, typhoid fever will prevail in our communities more or less.

In this connection it may be noted that in Los Angeles county, in spite of its immense population, the death rate from typhoid fever amounted to less than 10 per 100,000 of population. While that is satisfactory enough, it is certain that within a few years, when the water supply has been put under conditions that ensure its purity, typhoid fever will be comparatively unknown.

Glendale has always been practically free from typhoid or other epidemics. It would be difficult to find any place where conditions for healthy existence are more favorable. Therefore, it is only right to point out that it is the ideal summer resort and that those who dwell here cannot improve conditions by rushing off during the summer to crowded resorts where germ diseases have favorable soil and water for their culture and propagation.

The one great protection from typhoid infection wherever one is exposed to it is to boil the water. It is noted by the state board of health as worthy of remark that typhoid is common among the Japanese in California and not among the Chinese. The Chinese drink little water, using tea as their beverage. This compels them to boil the water.

ACCUSATIONS AGAINST KITCHENER

Lord Kitchener is experiencing the fate of most men who mount to high places—he is being unmercifully criticised. Kitchener is undoubtedly a man of merit. It is to be doubted, however, if he is in any way a genius. He took eleven years to organize the Egyptian troops and build railways across the Soudan, and then "smashed the Mahdi" in one great battle. He organized the British-Indian troops, bringing them to their present fine state of military perfection. Placed at the head of the war plans of Britain during the present crisis, Kitchener has gone on organizing with his usual method. He has been successful and has created an army for the British within eight months. Now, however, he is accused of keeping things too much in his own hands and of neglecting to keep up the ammunition supply. Out of all the criticism directed against Kitchener, it appears that the present war is too colossal a task for one man to handle. It is always the mark of a great man to be able to delegate power and to know whom to trust with details. In this Kitchener seems to have failed.

ON THE ROAD TO CONSTANTINOPLE

One of the most colossal tasks undertaken by the allies is the attempt to capture the forts of the Dardanelles Straits and sail up to and capture Constantinople. It is likely that if the Germans had not come to the assistance of the Turks, the British and French would have been in Constantinople long ere now. Back in the beginning of the last century the British on two occasions sailed up the straits to Constantinople.

Now the allies are confronted with a very different task. The fleet may batter down the Turkish forts, but under the able direction of the Germans, the Turks are entrenched in earthworks that it is almost impossible to destroy, even with modern high-power guns. Still it is likely that the allies will take Constantinople, although the Turks still cling to the opinion that their sacred city is impregnable.

It is worthy of note that when the Turks themselves captured Constantinople in 1453, the Greek Christians refused to the very last to believe that it would be possible to take their "holy city." Priests went about the city preaching that at the last moment, when all seemed lost, an angel would stand by the great fountain in the public square and proclaim destruction to the Turks at the sound of a silver trumpet. The Turks took the city and put every priest to the sword.

Now it looks as though the time of the Turks were at hand. Every nation except Germany seems to be against them and their great Mohammedan unity is at an end. Mohammedans are fighting for the allies in Belgium and keeping watch and ward from India through the Straits Settlements even to where the yellow waters of Yang-tse river flow into the Yellow sea. The Jews expected a miracle to save Jerusalem from the Romans, but God does not work miracles in that way. When a nation has neglected the precepts of God, destroyed its manhood and adopted false gods and false standards of right and wrong, it is doomed. It seems inevitable that the Turks, no longer living in the simplicity of their early teaching, effete and honeycombed with the vice of money worship, are doomed to be thrust out of Europe while another shall take their place.

MODERN KING-WORSHIP

To see one man bowing down before another is a most disgusting sight. To see a man of genius thus prostrating himself before power is equally disgusting. It is even more of an offense against the ethics that should govern the world, because a man of genius has no right to prostitute his God-given powers in this manner.

This is apropos of Gabriele d'Annunzio, the famous Italian novelist, play-writer and poet's recent outburst of fulsome praise of the King of Italy. Victor-Emmanuel is a good man. He is even a clever man, but he is nothing out of the common and it needed no word of a great poet to set him on a pinnacle. Already he stands on a pinnacle that may easily become a precipice of death. In his country's crisis he seems to have little guiding power and it ill becomes d'Annunzio to come forth from an interview with the royal numismatist so blinded that he cannot see the common men and the common things of life. Victor-Emmanuel is no Colossus to bestride the world.

PERSONALS

Mrs. H. W. James of Redondo Beach is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sibley, 1517 Penn street.

Mr. H. R. Sibley of 1517 Penn street recently resumed his position with the Santa Fe railroad in Los Angeles, he having enjoyed a five months' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Holman are the proud parents of a new boy—Master Harold Holman—weight six pounds, who arrived at their home, 1475 West Broadway, Wednesday morning, May 19, 1915.

Mr. S. A. Emery of Denver, Colo., who had been visiting his sister, Mrs. C. D. Lusby, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Emery, and his brother, Mr. E. U. Emery, returned Thursday to his home in Denver.

Mrs. H. R. Sibley of 1517 Penn street entertained at 12 o'clock luncheon Friday in honor of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. James of Redondo Beach, the following guests: Mrs. Joseph Couton of Burbank, Mrs. Chas. Hilton and Mrs. Joseph Wickersham of Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. U. Emery and two youngest daughters, Josephine and Annabelle, returned Thursday from Catalina island, where they had spent the past week at the Hotel Metropole. The rest proved most beneficial to all, especially to Annabelle, who has not been well this spring.

Mrs. H. M. Merrill, 116 Elrose avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Foss, 131 Elrose, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Z. Brummel, 1453 Milford street, on a motor trip Thursday evening to San Fernando. On their return the party was entertained to a jolly luncheon by Mr. and Mrs. Brummel.

Mrs. W. B. Mikesell, from San Diego, spent Friday visiting the Misses Vera Holloway and Ellen Hanson of the Glendale Union high school faculty. Mrs. Mikesell was a student at the Kansas State Agricultural college with the Misses Hanson and Holloway and is at present representative at a convention in Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. Askeland of 925 South Adams street, accompanied by her daughter, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jens H. Askeland of Burbank Tuesday. Mrs. Askeland, Jr., and her infant son are both up and in excellent health. Mr. Askeland and his father-in-law, Mr. W. B. Pratt, are both harvesting their third cutting of alfalfa.

Mr. Isaac Severns, who was recently stricken with paralysis, causing his entire right side to become useless, is slightly improved. This being the second attack of this character which Mr. Severns has experienced and there being a probability that he will get about again, causes him to soliloquize that "he comes under the head of the survival of the fittest."

Miss Alice Watson, 405 South Glendale avenue, and Miss Barbara Askeland, 925 South Adams street, were guests of Mrs. Charles Wohlfarth of Los Angeles on Monday. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by the friends, who formerly attended school together in the small building which stood where the new Broadway school now is located. Mrs. Wohlfarth was formerly Miss Florence Aykroyd.

Mr. Frank Campbell of 304 East Second street, whose home is so cosily situated among his five acres of fragrantly scented orange trees, has recently with the aid of skilled mechanics, transformed the interior of his home by the liberal use and scientific application of paint and various rich designs of wall paper, which is pleasing to behold. A front porch the entire width of the house is also a beautiful addition.

NOTICE TO CHILDREN UNDER 16

Don't let the chance go by to secure a prize on best collection of wild flowers for exhibit. Eagle Rock reports that their children, who had a beautiful display of wild flowers, arose at 4 o'clock in the morning to gather for their exhibit.

Let Glendale girls and boys show their civic pride by entering flowers of every kind on Thursday morning, May 27th, at the King and Maxwell garage, corner of Colorado and Brand boulevards.

Also everyone in Glendale should send in cut flowers to enter, if only one or three blooms of a kind. The prizes are now on display. Prizes only for cut flowers.

SEWING EXHIBIT

Under the direction of Miss Vera Holloway and Miss Ellen Hanson an interesting exhibit of sewing and cooking will be begun Wednesday afternoon of next week in the new bungalow apartments of the Union high school. The sewing exhibit will be continued throughout Thursday and Friday. The cooking school rooms will be open to inspection all the time.

THEY MEET TO SEW

An informal club at the meetings of which nevertheless much excellent and profitable work is done, is the sewing society that met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. H. Addison, 316 Belmont. Those present were Mrs. F. A. Field, 239 South Kenwood; Mrs. S. A. Chase, 117 South Maryland; Mrs. Rowe, Orange street; Mrs. L. E. Starkey, 420 Belmont; Mrs. F. A. Aldrich, 118 Orange Grove avenue, and Miss A. S. Goff, 312 Belmont.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE SUNFLOWER CHORUS

For lady minstrel May festival program, rehearsal at Butler's hall at 1 p. m. sharp Saturday. Do your share in shedding sunshine and helping to boost for this great Glendale festival. Please be prompt. A few more girls for chorus needed. Phone Mrs. Baker, Glendale 686, for information.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB DAY AT ROBERTS & ECHOLS DRUG STORE

The firm of Roberts & Echols have kindly offered the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club a percentage of all their cash sales tomorrow. In appreciation of this great help, the executive committee of the Festival of Fruits and Flowers wish to urge all club ladies and friends to go to Roberts & Echols Saturday for their soap, drugs, etc. The bigger the sales, the bigger the amount for the club. Tell your friends.

VISIT LLANO DEL RIO

Some time ago Mr. A. D. Hurd and Mr. Lars Lund entered into a compact to visit the Llano del Rio colony, which recently celebrated its first anniversary. The business interests of the gentlemen were of such a character that they could not remain over night at the colony and as it is about a two hundred mile round trip, they proposed to start at daylight last Sunday morning, spend a few hours at the colony, and return the same day.

It happened that the Sebastian parade occurred the night before, and Mr. Lund had promised his family to take it in. Getting home late from the parade, Mr. Lund was too tired to oil and prepare his machine and for the same reason overslept himself. His wife not being in favor of two such strenuous consecutive stunts, refused to get up in the middle of the night and get his breakfast ready, and as Mr. Hurd by appointment had been waiting on a certain corner for about an hour, shivering in the fog, Lund hustled off without breakfast or even thinking of giving any attention to his machine. Soon after getting started it occurred to Lund that aside from the lubricating situation, he had but about two gallons of gas in his tank, so back to the shop they went, greased up and got started again about 7 o'clock instead of at four.

It was a delightful morning, cool and clear, and all went well until about 10 o'clock, when they were about ten miles beyond Saugus, in Mint canyon, when as they were traveling with the mind and as the sun had become quite hot, the water in the tank boiled over. There being no water within many miles of this point, Hurd suggested that they turn and face the wind and jam the machine into a sage bush, the only means at hand of getting the water cooled, which they did. It being quite hot, Hurd and Lund each hunted up another sage bush, took a nap for about an hour, and finding the water sufficiently cooled, started off again.

About this time Hurd wagered Lund that they would not reach their destination in time for dinner. When they were within about seven miles of Llano, they came to a cross road, and Lund not knowing the route, asked Hurd which of the two roads was the one to take. Hurd seeing that he was going to lose his wager, without blinking an eyelash directed Lund to the wrong road. They traveled about three miles on this road only to fetch up at an old deserted shack. There was nothing to do but turn about. Result, dinner all cleared away when they arrived at Llano, and Lund swears in German, French and broken English that Hurd put up a job on him.

The return trip was made practically devoid of incident, experiencing no tire or other trouble during the whole trip. It was a common sight, however, every few miles of the journey, to see a machine sidetracked with several men and women struggling with tire trouble. An amusing phase in this connection was the fact that although Lund and Hurd passed much trouble of this character, it was not until Lund spied in the uncertain twilight, about a foot and a half of a feminine pedal extremity extending from under a Studebaker, he brought the machine up with a jolt, only to find that the other machine was occupied by three young girls (the unusual attitude of one which caused him to almost wreck his machine in stopping it so suddenly), and their mother. Lund spent nearly two hours in assisting first one and the other of the girls in getting their troubles adjusted, much of which time spent Hurd characteristically designated as "bull."

While at Llano the boys were royally entertained, as although the dinner hour had passed when they arrived, a bountiful meal was prepared for them. They were conveyed to the dam-site, some six miles distant, which is more than adequate to provide all necessary water for a densly populated colony for three years' drought, when it is controlled. The hennery and rabbitery, with its thousands of inhabitants; the hundreds of cows and about fifty horses, were seen in their commodious and sanitary quarters and from an elevated point the whole colony could be taken in with one sweep of vision, showing the long lines of snow-white tents, clubhouse and community dining hall, the ten-acre garden and the hundred-acre alfalfa field. The scene was a most inspiring one, indeed.

The Verdict

—convincingly and overwhelmingly for Goodrich.

This company alone through the daily press of January 31st gave to the consuming public the most sweeping reduction ever made in tire prices. This established the only genuine Fair-List in existence on non-skid tires today.

Goodrich prices were dated February 1st in ordinary course. Other tires were reduced in prices a few days later and the reduction dated back to February 1st.

Every real price-reduction on tires has followed the lead of Goodrich.

As always, Goodrich policy and Goodrich methods first gave the tire user the benefit of reduced prices.

We lowered tire cost for every tire user when we did that.

We were more than content to await the verdict

And that verdict is overwhelmingly and convincingly in favor of Goodrich Tires and of Goodrich Fair-List prices.

We knew that the tire user was buying mileage-service—he was buying what the tires would do for him, rather than so much bulk rubber and fabric.

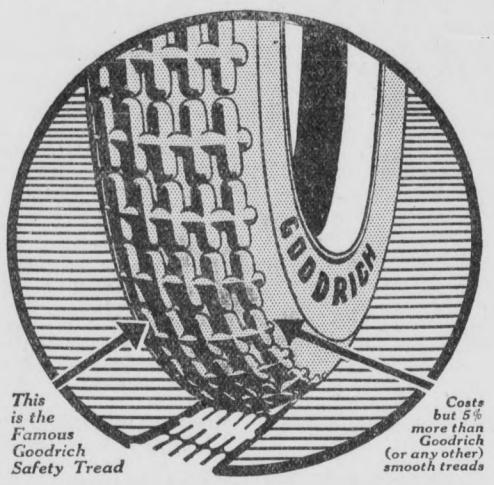
We knew what our long years of rubber manufacture and tire-making had taught us.

We knew we were making tires which had exactly the right amount of rubber and the right quantity of fabric to deliver exactly the right kind of service.

We knew that too much rubber and too much fabric would be as detrimental to the service of the tires as too little.

The tire user knows that Goodrich led in putting tire prices on their just and proper level.

Only 5% PLUS for the Best Non-Skid



This is the Famous Goodrich Safety Tread

Costs but 5% more than Goodrich (or any other) smooth treads

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C" and "D" represent four highly advertised tires and be sure to note Goodrich Safety Treads cost from 8% to 48% less than others shown below:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	OTHER MAKES "A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30x3	$ 9.45	$10.55	$10.95	$16.35	$18.10
30x3½	12.20	13.35	14.20	21.70	23.60
32x3½	14.00	15.40	16.30	22.85	25.30
34x4	20.35	22.30	23.80	31.15	33.55
36x4½	28.70	32.15	33.60	41.85	41.40
37x5	33.90	39.80	41.80	49.85	52.05

You pay money for your tires. You want miles from your tires.

Goodrich Tires are built to deliver mileage at the least cost per mile, and to deliver it with the greatest ease, the greatest comfort and the greatest economy.

Every ounce of energy, every bit of intelligence, every flash of genius, every atom of efficiency in the whole Goodrich organization has been concentrated on this proposition of making tires which will surely give the greatest mileage at the least cost.

The Goodrich tire user knows that right now, today, with all the stampede to meet Goodrich prices, Goodrich quality is not met and that his dollar buys more tire service in Goodrich tires.

"As good as Goodrich" is today the plea.

Let us say to you, in all good faith and with every confidence in the fair-minded judgment of the tire user, that no other tire made has in it and of it the experience, the know-how and the know-why which govern the selection and the combination of the exact quality and quantity of rubber and fabric which constitute Goodrich Tires.

"Goodrich First" is the verdict of the motoring public, which knows that Goodrich first gave it the great benefit of Fair-List prices and which demands increasing thousands of
